The European SPES Institute (formerly the European SPES Forum) was founded in 2004 in Leuven, Belgium. It is part of the SPES Forum vzw, a formal non-profit organization under the Belgian law. (http://www.eurospes.org/)

The functioning of the European SPES Institute is based on the belief that spiritually motivated actors who define success in multidimensional, holistic terms may serve the common good of nature, future generations and society. The mission of the European SPES Institute is expressed in the key word of SPES, being on the one hand an acronym for “Spirituality in Economics and Society” and, on the other hand, the Latin word for Hope, the virtue that sustains our belief in a better future.

The President of the European SPES Institute is Laszlo Zsolnai (Professor and Director, Business Ethics Center, Corvinus University of Budapest). The Steering Committee includes Luk Bouckaert (Professor Emeritus, Catholic University of Leuven), Josep M. Lozano (Professor, ESADE Business School Barcelona), Sharda Nandram (Associate Professor, Nyenrode Business University, Breukelen), Hendrik Opdebeeck (Professor, University of Antwerp), and Mike Thompson (Co-founder, The HUB London and Visiting Professor, China-Europe International Business School, Shanghai).

A number of well-known scholars are members of the Advisory Board of the European SPES Institute. They include Helen Alford, OP (“Angelicum”, Rome), Henri-Claude de Bettignies (INSEAD and CEIBS, Shanghai), Madhumita Chatterji (IFIM Business School, Bangalore), Thomas Dienberg (PTH, Münster), Bernadette Flanagan (All Hallows College, Dublin), Rita Ghesquière (Catholic University of Leuven), Laurent Ledoux (“Philosophie & Management”, Brussels), John Loughlin (University of Cambridge), David W. Miller (Princeton University), Kamran Mofid (Globalization for the Common Good Initiative), Peter Pruzan (Copenhagen Business School), Peter Róna (University of Oxford), Diana Schumacher (Schumacher Society, UK), Paul Shrivastava (Concordia University Montreal), S. Prakash Sethi (CUNY, New York), Edith Sizoo (The Charter of Human Responsibilities), Daniel Truran (European Bahai Business Forum), Antoon Vandevelde (Catholic University of Leuven), and Stefano Zamagni (University of Bologna).

70 Fellows joined the European SPES Institute from 26 countries (Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Finland, France, Germany, Hungary, India, Indonesia, Ireland, Italy, Lithuania, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Serbia, Slovakia, South Africa, Spain, Switzerland, UK, and USA).

The activities of the European Institute focus on six broad areas, namely:

- Economic Ethics
- Business for Peace
- Asia-Europe Dialogue on Leadership
- Art and Sustainability
- Buddhist Economics
- Spiritual-based Entrepreneurship

We published 18 books and special issues, the most important of which are the following:

- The Spiritual Dimension of Business Ethics and Sustainability Management
  edited by Laszlo Zsolnai, 2015, Springer

- Responsible Economics: E.F. Schumacher and His Legacy for the 21st Century

- The Palgrave Handbook of Spirituality and Business
  edited by Luk Bouckaert and Laszlo Zsolnai, 2011, Palgrave Macmillan

- Spirituality and Ethics in Management
  edited by Laszlo Zsolnai, 2011, Springer

- Business, Spirituality and the Common Good edited by Mike J. Thompson, 2011, Russell Media

- Frugality: Rebalancing Material and Spiritual Values in Economic Life

Future programs and projects of the European SPES Institute include Virtues and Vices in Economics and Business (Leuven), Applying Simplicity to Management (Amsterdam), Buddhist Economics and Alternative Development (Bhutan), Liberation Theology and Economics (Buenos Aires) and Peace Economics (New York).

Further information about the European SPES Institute including issues of becoming a fellow and sponsorship opportunities can be obtained on request from the following address:

European SPES Institute
email: laszlo_zsolnai@interware.hu website: http://www.europes.org/

SPES Forum vzw
Waversebaan 220
3001 Leuven-Heverlee, Belgium
luk.bouckaert@econ.kuleuven.be